

PRIME NETWORK

GUARANTEED CONNECTIVITY

April 2, 2008

Full membership

The current constitution of Prime allows a full membership for firms in the printing industry who supply products for a newspaper workflow or who wish to be integrated in this workflow. Prime members should have a significant standing in the printing industry and have the ability and competence to contribute to the further development of the workflow and its interfaces.

An informal application for full membership should be addressed in writing to the Prime managing committee. The decision to accept a member will be passed on recommendation of the Prime managing committee by a plenary vote of members.

Prime members are fully authorized to use all services provided by Prime (interfaces, documents, technical design/assistance).

Prime members are required to pay a single non-recurring application fee plus an annual membership fee.

Associated membership

An informal application for associated membership can also be made in writing to the Prime managing committee. This applies to firms who wish to use Prime services (interfaces, documents) for one or more projects for a limited period of time only.

Associated members are required to pay a single non-recurring fee.
